

The New Metal Building Insulation

In April 2001 a dust cloud twice the size of Texas swept across northwest China drifting 7,000 miles over the Pacific Ocean and blanketed the western United States. If you've ever been in a dust storm, you would know its ability to penetrate straight to the skin. Insulation is just as bad as dust, if not worse! Up until now that is! Insulation installers have always experienced a dust storm of their own every time they unroll insulation. Not anymore! The age of itchy, dusty, and smelly insulation is over! With our new JM Formaldehyde Free insulation, your installers won't want to use anything else.
